BALUCHISTAN HUMAN RIGHTS REPORT – April 2026

This report documents the alarming human rights violations taking place in Balochistan, with a particular focus on enforced disappearances and extrajudicial killings. The cases recorded during April 2026 reveal a deeply troubling pattern of arbitrary detention, enforced disappearance, physical and psychological torture, and unlawful killings allegedly carried out by Pakistani security forces and state-backed armed groups. These violations continue to create a climate of fear, insecurity, and impunity across Balochistan.

During April 2026, Balochistan experienced a sustained rise in human rights abuses. In addition, cases linked to the broader Baloch conflict were also reported from Karachi in Sindh and Dera Ghazi Khan in Punjab. The geographic spread of these incidents highlights the continuing vulnerability of Baloch individuals both within and beyond Balochistan.

A total of 109 cases of enforced disappearances were documented during the month, reflecting the widespread and systematic targeting of civilians. Of these, 39 individuals were later released after periods of unlawful detention, during which they reportedly endured severe physical and psychological torture. Their accounts provide further evidence of the use of coercion, mistreatment, and intimidation in custody.

The report also documents 26 confirmed cases of extrajudicial killings. Many of the victims had reportedly been subjected to enforced disappearance before their bodies were later recovered, raising serious concerns about unlawful killings and the denial of due process. These cases illustrate the deadly consequences of unchecked state power and the absence of accountability. The findings presented in this report point to a worsening human rights situation in Balochistan. They underscore the urgent need for independent and impartial investigations, effective accountability mechanisms, and sustained international attention to protect the fundamental rights, safety, and dignity of the Baloch people.

Statistics of Enforced Disappearances — April 2026

The following districts reported cases of enforced disappearances and illegal detentions during April 2026:

1. Cases of Enforced Disappearances

A total of 109 individuals were forcibly disappeared across Balochistan. These incidents reflect ongoing patterns of arbitrary arrest, incommunicado detention, and denial of due process.

Notably:

- 39 individuals were later released after enduring mental and physical torture.

2. Extrajudicial Killings

The extrajudicial killings by Pakistani forces in Balochistan continue unabated. The Pakistani military is reportedly detaining and killing individuals without due process for undisclosed reasons. In the month of April 26 People were extrajudicially killed.

Summary of All Three Categories — April 2026

- A total of 109 cases of enforced disappearances were recorded.
- 39 individuals were later released.
- 26 cases of extrajudicial killings were confirmed.

Anatomy of an Abduction in Balochistan

The cases documented during April 2026 reveal a recurring pattern in enforced disappearances and extrajudicial killings across Balochistan. While each victim's story is unique, many incidents follow a similar sequence, highlighting a systematic process that has created fear and uncertainty throughout the region.

1. Targeting and Surveillance

Victims are often ordinary civilians, including students, labourers, drivers, shepherds, government employees, shopkeepers, and tailors. Many are taken from their homes, workplaces, markets, checkpoints, or while travelling. Families frequently report that victims appeared to have been monitored before their abduction.

2. Arrest Without Warrant or Due Process

The abductions are commonly carried out by personnel identified by witnesses as members of the Frontier Corps (FC), intelligence agencies, police units, or armed groups described by local residents as state-backed death squads.

In most documented cases:

- No arrest warrant is presented.
- No formal charges are disclosed.
- Family members are not informed of the reason for detention.
- The detainee is taken to an undisclosed location.

Abductions often occur in broad daylight and in front of family members, neighbours, or other witnesses.

3. Incommunicado Detention

Following the abduction, victims effectively disappear from the protection of the law.

Families typically face:

- No information regarding the victim's whereabouts.
- Denial of custody by authorities.
- Lack of access to legal representation.
- Inability to communicate with the detainee.

This period can last from days to several years. Families are often left searching hospitals, police stations, courts, prisons, and military camps without receiving answers.

4. Torture and Ill-Treatment

The experiences of those released indicate that detainees are frequently subjected to severe physical and psychological abuse during detention.

According to documented cases, released individuals reported:

- Physical torture.
- Threats and intimidation.
- Psychological pressure.
- Prolonged interrogation.
- Inhumane detention conditions.

During April 2026 alone, 39 individuals were released after periods of enforced disappearance, many reportedly showing signs of mental and physical trauma.

5. Two Possible Outcomes

For many victims, enforced disappearance ends in one of two ways.

Release After Torture

Some detainees are eventually released without charge. Many return home traumatised, physically weakened, and reluctant to speak openly about their experiences due to fear of reprisals.

Extrajudicial Killing

Others never return alive.

In numerous documented cases, victims who had previously been forcibly disappeared were later found dead. Their bodies were often discovered in remote areas, roadsides, or deserted locations.

Common features include:

- Bullet wounds.
- Signs of torture.
- Bodies abandoned far from the place of abduction.
- No independent investigation into the circumstances of death.

Cases documented during April 2026, including those of Sabzal Baloch, Qamber Baloch, Sadiq Noor, Muslim Dad, Marwan Baloch, Hatim Baloch, Shahram, and Zulfiqar Baloch, reflect this pattern, where individuals were allegedly taken into custody before later being found dead.

6. Impunity and Fear

A defining feature of these cases is the absence of accountability. Families rarely receive official explanations regarding the fate of their loved ones. Investigations are uncommon, prosecutions are virtually non-existent, and those responsible are seldom held accountable.

This climate of impunity has created widespread fear throughout Balochistan. Families live with the constant risk that a relative may be taken without warning, held in secret detention, and never return.

April 2026 at a Glance

- 109 cases of enforced disappearances documented.
- 39 individuals released after periods of detention and reported torture.
- 26 cases of extrajudicial killings confirmed.

These figures demonstrate that enforced disappearance in Balochistan is not an isolated occurrence but part of a broader pattern of human rights violations that continues to affect communities across the region.

Extrajudicial Execution and the "Kill and Dump" Policy

Extrajudicial Killings: A Continuing Cycle of Violence and Impunity

The cases documented during April 2026 indicate a continuing pattern in which enforced disappearances are followed by extrajudicial killings. Many victims were reportedly taken into custody by security forces or state-backed armed groups and subsequently disappeared for days, months, or even years before their bodies were recovered.

Several of the victims, including Qamber Baloch, Sadiq Noor, Muslim Dad, Marwan Baloch, Hatim Baloch, Shahram, and Zulfiqar Baloch, were allegedly detained before their bullet-riddled bodies were later found in different parts of Balochistan. The repeated appearance of bodies bearing gunshot wounds, often abandoned in remote locations, raises serious concerns about the use of unlawful lethal force and the denial of basic legal protections guaranteed under both domestic and international law.

These incidents suggest a pattern in which individuals are removed from the protection of the law and subsequently killed without judicial process or accountability.

The victims documented during April 2026 came from diverse backgrounds, including students, labourers, drivers, shepherds, government employees, and skilled workers, indicating that the violence was not limited to any single group.

The reported killings of young students such as Chakar Baloch, Marwan Baloch, and Hatim Baloch, alongside the deaths of civilians including tailor Israr Baloch and labourer Muhammad Khalid, highlight the broad impact of these violations on Baloch society.

Particularly alarming was the reported attack on a nomadic Marri family in Barkhan district, which resulted in the deaths of twelve civilians, including women and children, and left several others injured. The absence of transparent investigations, prosecutions, or official explanations in these cases contributes to a climate of impunity and deepens fear among local communities. Collectively, these incidents point to a worsening human rights situation in Balochistan and reinforce the urgent need for independent investigations and international scrutiny.

Conclusion and Appeal to the International Community

The cases documented in this report reveal a worsening human rights crisis in Balochistan. The continued use of enforced disappearances, torture, extrajudicial killings, and collective punishment has created a climate of fear and insecurity across the region. The recording of 109 enforced disappearances, 39 releases following reported torture, and 26 extrajudicial killings during April 2026 demonstrates that these violations are not isolated incidents but part of a continuing pattern affecting ordinary civilians, including students, labourers, women, children, and elderly people.

Particular concern must be given to the increasing targeting of Baloch women and the use of collective punishment against the families of political activists, journalists, and human rights defenders. Reports of enforced disappearances, intimidation, forced confessions, home raids, and reprisals against family members represent serious violations of fundamental human rights and deepen the suffering of already affected communities.

PAANK urges the United Nations, the European Union, democratic governments, and international human rights organisations to take immediate notice of the situation in Balochistan. Independent investigations must be conducted into allegations of enforced disappearances, torture, extrajudicial killings, and attacks on civilians, and those responsible must be held accountable.

The families of the disappeared deserve truth and justice. Continued international silence will only encourage further abuses and strengthen the culture of impunity. Meaningful international attention, sustained monitoring, and concrete action are urgently needed to protect the rights, dignity, and security of the Baloch people.
