

PAANK MONTHLY REPORT

June 2026

This report documents the alarming human rights abuses occurring in Balochistan, with a particular focus on enforced disappearances and extrajudicial killings. The cases recorded during June 2026 reveal a deeply concerning pattern of state repression, arbitrary detentions, physical and psychological torture, and unlawful executions carried out by Pakistani security forces and intelligence agencies. These abuses underscore a continuing climate of impunity, fear, and systemic injustice across the region.

During this month, a total of 63 cases of enforced disappearances were documented, reflecting the ongoing and widespread targeting of civilians, students, and workers. Families continue to face profound psychological trauma and uncertainty as their loved ones are taken beyond the reach of judicial oversight. Furthermore, 77 confirmed cases of extrajudicial killings were recorded in June, highlighting the lethal consequences of unchecked state power and the complete breakdown of due process.

These findings reflect the rapidly deteriorating human rights situation in Balochistan. They point to an urgent, undeniable need for independent international investigations, robust accountability mechanisms, and continuous global monitoring to protect vulnerable communities and bring an end to these grave violations.

Impacts of Enforced Disappearances and Extrajudicial Killings

Enforced disappearances and extrajudicial killings in Balochistan generate severe, multi-faceted consequences that ripple across social, economic, psychological, and institutional structures.

1. Devastating Socio-Economic Impact

- Loss of Family Breadwinners: A high percentage of forcibly disappeared and extrajudicially killed individuals are young men, students, drivers, shopkeepers, and primary earners. Their absence plunges entire extended families into sudden severe poverty, hunger, and debt.
- Economic Paralysis & Displacement: Families often exhaust their entire savings, sell homes, or abandon livelihoods to travel across cities—from Turbat and Quetta to Karachi and Islamabad— to attend court hearings, set up protest camps, or identify bodies.
- Impact on Women and Children: Thousands of women are left as "half-widows " —a status where they cannot claim inheritance, state aid, or remarry because their husbands are neither declared dead nor confirmed alive. Children are frequently forced to abandon education to enter the labor force early.

2. Deep Psychological Trauma & "Ambiguous Loss"

- The Torture of Uncertainty: Mental health professionals and human rights advocates note that enforced disappearance inflicts a distinct form of psychological torture known as ambiguous loss. Families live in perpetual distress—stuck between grief and hope—never knowing if their loved one is being tortured, starved, or already dead.
- Intergenerational Fear: The continuous recovery of mutilated, torture-marked bodies dumped on roadsides creates pervasive collective trauma, anxiety, and severe PTSD across local communities.

3. Collective Harassment and Reprisals against Families

- Targeting of Protesters: Families who publicly demand justice, set up hunger strike camps, or organize marches face ongoing state harassment, surveillance, threats, and bogus criminal charges.
- Direct Reprisals: As highlighted in recent Paank reports, relatives speaking out face direct violence—such as the targeted killing of 70-year-old retired teacher Inayat Ullah in Khuzdar, targeted following public appeals made by his activist daughter, Asma Jattak.

4. Systemic Breakdown & Erosion of the Rule of Law

- Judicial Impunity: The routine failure of civilian courts and official missing persons commissions to hold security forces (FC, CTD, intelligence agencies) accountable erodes public trust in state institutions and the legal system.
- Normalizing Staged Encounters: Presenting previously disappeared individuals as "terrorists killed in encounters" institutionalizes state extrajudicial violence and deprives victims of any judicial process or posthumous dignity.

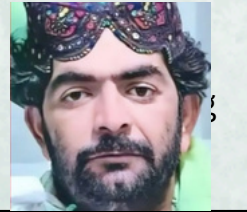

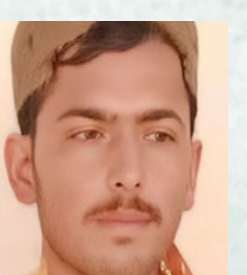

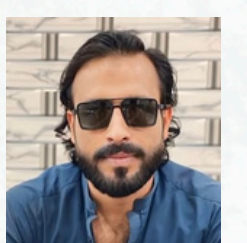

5. Escalation of Conflict and Mass Mobilization

- Fueling Cycles of Alienation: Instead of subduing dissent, heavy-handed state repression alienated local populations, deepening grievances and driving community resistance.
- Rise of Women-Led Civil Movements: The severe impact on families has triggered unprecedented political mobilization, transforming affected women into the primary leaders of non-violent anti-enforced disappearance movements across Pakistan.

Documented cases of Enforced Disappearances

A total of 63 individuals were extrajudicially killed across Balochistan during June 2026. These incidents reflect an alarming escalation in staged encounters, targeted assassinations, and custody killings, further highlighting the severe lack of legal accountability and due process.

Summary of Human Rights Cases in Balochistan (June 2026)

The following human rights violations and incidents occurred in Balochistan during June 2026:

1. Siege of Mashkai

Date: June 2026

Location: Mashkai, Balochistan

Details: A military siege was imposed in Mashkai, which has placed the local civilian population under severe humanitarian strain.

Restrictions: Residents have been subjected to restricted freedom of movement and denied vital access to essential services. This includes a complete lack of access to healthcare, education, livelihoods, and basic necessities, alongside the closure of local markets.

Response: Urgent calls have been made for the authorities to immediately lift these restrictions on civilians and restore access to basic necessities while upholding fundamental rights and dignity. Furthermore, international human rights organizations have been urged to closely monitor the situation and take immediate notice of the deteriorating humanitarian conditions in the region.

2. Destruction of Civilian Homes in Gomazi, Tump

Date: 12 June 2026

Location: Gomazi, Tump, District Kech, Balochistan

Details: Frontier Corps personnel carried out the reported burning, demolition, and complete destruction of civilian homes and property.

Affected Families: Several houses belonging to local residents were completely destroyed or demolished, specifically targeting the homes of the following families:

- Nazeer Baloch
- Sheer Dil Baloch
- Omar Baloch
- Taj Muhammad Baloch

Impact & Response: The destruction of homes, livelihoods, and private property constitutes a serious violation of fundamental human rights and raises grave concerns regarding the use of collective punishment against civilians. These actions inflict severe suffering on the affected families, undermining their safety, dignity, and security. Consequently, demands have been raised for an immediate halt to the destruction of civilian property, a transparent and independent investigation into the incidents, and full accountability for those responsible. National and international human rights organizations are further urged to closely monitor the situation and take meaningful steps to ensure the protection of civilians across Balochistan.

Conclusion and Appeal to the International Community

The cases documented in this report reveal a worsening human rights crisis in Balochistan. The continued use of enforced disappearances, torture, extrajudicial killings, and collective punishment has created a climate of fear and insecurity across the region. The recording of 63 enforced disappearances, 17 releases following reported torture, and 77 extrajudicial killings during June 2026 demonstrates that these violations are not isolated incidents but part of a continuing pattern affecting ordinary civilians, including students, labourers, women, children, and elderly people.

Particular concern must be given to the increasing targeting of Baloch women and the use of collective punishment against the families of political activists, journalists, and human rights defenders. Reports of enforced disappearances, intimidation, forced confessions, home raids, and reprisals against family members represent serious violations of fundamental human rights and deepen the suffering of already affected communities.

PAANK urges the United Nations, the European Union, democratic governments, and international human rights organisations to take immediate notice of the situation in Balochistan. Independent investigations must be conducted into allegations of enforced disappearances, torture, extrajudicial killings, and attacks on civilians, and those responsible must be held accountable.

The families of the disappeared deserve truth and justice. Continued international silence will only encourage further abuses and strengthen the culture of impunity. Meaningful international attention, sustained monitoring, and concrete action are urgently needed to protect the rights, dignity, and security of the Baloch people.
